

Notes from Testing:

Testing 1:

- There is no log out button
- Colors are kinda boring
- Graphics aren't that great with a mix of real pictures and whatnot
- Layout is a lot better than last time

Testing 2:

- They want a log out button with some settings
- Everything is green, kinda boring
- Layout is great where we can get to different areas in many different ways
- Layout is really nice where this is easy to understand
- Text is nice

Testing 3:

- Wishes there was a dark mode
- Things are bland and mix in with each other
- Layout is really nice though

Overall Feedback:

Over all, this went really well! I appreciate that everyone wanted a log off function, I did not think of it myself to have a settings and a log out function. I am a little sad to hear that they do not like the graphics, or think that everything is sort of bland. I will work to make a log out function soon, and will be able to make some different types of graphics. It makes me feel better that people like the layout more, where they were able to navigate to areas in multiple ways, which is what I wanted from this because it allows people to find things easier and works with their mindset.
